The Rev. Mr. Flannes, Unarmed, Caught Intruders in Parlor; Grappled with One.

THUG FINALLY ESCAPED

He Was Captured Later, However, by the Minister, Aided by a Policeman-Held in Court for Trial.

The Rev. August Flannes, pastor of St. John's Methodist Episcopal Church, Williamsburg, although unarmed, attempted to capture two burglars whom he found at work in his home early this morning.

After a scuffle he was forced to drop his hold on one of them, and both escaped for the moment. The minister's attack, however, so delayed the man with whom he grappled that he was later captured.

The Rev. Mr. Flannes was awakened about 4 o'clock by a noise on the floor below. Going downstairs he found his parlor lighted and saw the shadows of two men moving about. He wore only his night clothing, but he advanced on the men, trying to steal up on them. He made enough noise, however, to give them warning, and the burglars ran for a window they had forced open,

One of them jumped, but the other was caught by the minister. The fellow struck at Mr. Flannes but failed to hit him effectively. The minister caught him about the waist and the two wrestled about the room until the thief managed to wrench himself free and leap out of the window into an areaway. Mr. Flannes heard a groan, but saw the man run off. The minister shouted for help and po- the world.

FAMILY FOUND AFTER 20 YEARS.

John Haupt, or rather John Rockell as he is now known, has found two aunts, as well as two sisters, by the persistency of one of the sisters, Mrs. Parmlee, of Austin, Pa.

The aunts, Mrs. Haase, of No. 52 First street, Manhattan, and Mrs. Mary Mill er, of No. 152 Harman street, Brooklyn walked into the office of Postmaster Ritberger, of Long Island City, this morning, and announced this fact.

Haupt is the adopted son of John Rockell, a rich artist, of No. 451 Fifth avenue, Astoria. He got the bov nearly twenty years ago from the Home for Friendless Children. Haupt's father put him and his two sisters in the Five

The children were sent to the Home for Friendless Children and adopted from there. One of the sisters is in Penn Yan. Mrs. Parmiee looked up the records and found where she was, and

100,000 Yards of New Printed Cottons

ONE of the foremost mills in the country determined to make a double season this year, and has had its experts preparing new patterns to put on the market the moment the choicest patterns of the regular lines were running low.

We couldn't resist them—neither can you. No bargain goods—no matter how little the price—can compare for an instant with the fascination of these.

Two Hundred Choice, Bright, Original Patterns!

There are Dimities with the exquisite fineness and finish of the Irish goods, with far more beautiful patterns.

There are Batistes that seem finer and more beautiful than goods at double their cost. Some show little flecks of white scattered over tinted grounds, with the daintiest of Dresder borders for the trimming. There are many varieties of bordered designs, of beauty never seen in any but expensive goods before. Then we have new supplies of the choice dots that are usually so scarce at this senson.

And the price of all—
